The Daily Courant.

Thurſday, September 21 1704.

From the Paris Gazette, dated Sept. 13.

Venice, Auguſt 23.

A Courier that arriv'd here from the Court of France the end of laſt Week, reports that all the Differences between the King and this Republick are amicably accommodated: And that Orders have been ſent to the Grand Prior of France to withdraw his Troops out of the Caſtle of Sanguineto; and alſo out of the Territories of the Republick, provided the Imperialiſts would likewiſe march out of them. And a Courier ſent hither by the Proveditor Extraordinary from Legnago, who arriv'd the 17th, reports, that the French have actually quitted the Caſtle of Sanguineto. We have ſince receiv'd Advice, that a Body of Imperial Troops is come back to Peſcantina above Verona and is encamp'd there; and that towards the End of the Campaign they expect great Reinforeements from Germany, to make a Diverſion in Italy in favour of the Duke of Savoy. The Troops that block up Mirandola, have rais'd Batteries of Mortars at no great Diſtance from the Place, to Bombard it and incommode the Garriſon.

From the Paris Gazette, dated Sept. 20.

Venice, Aug. 30. Letters from Verona adviſe, that the Grand Prior of France is not retir'd out of the Veroneze, but continues encamp'd at Iſola della Scala, to obſerve the Motions of the Imperial Troops, which are come to Peſcantina, San Michele, and San Martino near Verona. Mean time the Germans make frequent Incurſions, in one of which they advanc'd near to the River Adda, committed great Diſorders, and carried off a great Booty. Since which 'tis adviſed from Crema, that the Prince of Vaudemont has poſted a Body of French and Spaniſh Horſe at Caravaggio, between the Adda and the Serio, on the edge of the Bergamaſque.

From the Paris Gazette, dated Sept. 13.

Paris, Sept. 13. A Courier that left the Army under the Duke of Vendome the 1ſt of this Month, has brought Advice, that the Duke decamp'd from San Germano the 24th of laſt Month, with Store of Proviſions and Ammunition neceſſary for Beſieging Ivrea; that advancing along the ſide of the Doria without meeting any oppoſition, he arriv'd the 30th before Ivrea: that the ſame day he caus'd the Hills which overlook the Town and upon which the Enemies had made Intrenchments and poſted a certain Number of Men in them, to be attack'd; the Enemy was beaten from them, and purſu'd within Piſtol ſhot of the Place; ſome of them were taken Priſoners: That afterwards he order'd Batteries to be made, 2 of which were to be ready to play the 1ſt Inſtant in the Evening: That it was believ'd the Town would be oblig'd to ſurrender in a few Days; after which the Caſtle, ſituate on this ſide the River would be attack'd.

From the Paris Gazette, dated Sept. 20.

From the Camp before Ivrea, Sept. 3. The Duke of Vendome having poſſeſs'd himſelf of all the riſing Grounds about this Place, caus'd all things to be got ready for opening the Trenches; and laſt Night they were open'd within half Muſquet-ſhot of the Counterſcarp, whither 'tis hop'd they may be carried on in a little time. To night or tomorrow at furtheſt we ſhall have Batteries ready to play. The Enemies have 9 Battallions in the Town and Caſtle, with 22 Pieces of Cannon; and on the other ſide the Doria are 300 of their Horſe.

From the Amſterdam Gazette, dated Sept. 16.

Creſcentino, Aug. 29. A few days ago a Diſcovery was made of a Conſpiracy laid between Monſieur Albergotti and ſome Sergeants and Corporals of a Regiment of Deſerters which his Royal Highneſs has caus'd to be form'd at Chivazzo. The Sergeants and their Accomplices, were to Murther the Governour of that Place, and their Officers, and to Maſſacre the Militia poſted there on the ſide of the Po, and Monſieur Albergotti was to advance on t'other ſide of that River, with 4000 Men, to paſs it and cut off his Royal Highneſs's Communication with Turin. Some of the Conſpirators were made an Example of.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Sept. 16.

Turin, Aug. 29. Monſieur Bernardi, late Governour of Suza, ſtands condemn'd by a Council of War to loſe his Head, for defending that Place no better; and all the other Officers who commanded under him are condemn'd to the Galleys: But 'tis believ'd Monſieur Bernardi will be pardon'd at the Requeſt of ſome Perſons of Quality. Monſieur Des Hayes, who having kill'd an Officer in a Duel in France, fled his Country and put himſelf into the Service of his Royal Highneſs, who ſome time after made him Governour of Vercelli, has obtain'd his Pardon of the King of France, and is enter'd into his Service. The Marqueſs of Dronero has likewiſe taken Service in the Troops of the Dutchy of Milan; And the Count of Prela is retir'd into a Convent and is turn'd Monk: Which confirms many People in their Opinion that there was ſome Underſtanding between thoſe Officers, who had the Principal Command in Vercelli, and the French; and that they ſurrendred that Place before they were reduc'd to a neceſſity of doing it. A Proceſs is preparing againſt them. The Duke of Vendome has inveſted Ivrea with an Army of 22000 Foot and 9000 Horſe; and promiſes himſelf to be Maſter of that Place by the 15th of September; but he may be deceiv'd, for the German Officer who commands there in chief, and has a Garriſon of 4000 Men, half Imperialiſts half Savoyards, ſeems determin'd to defend it to the laſt Extremity,

From the Paris Gazette a la Main, dated Sept. 19.

Paris, Sept. 19. The 17th a Courier arriv'd Expreſs from the Duke of Vendome, with Advice, that there are 2 Breaches already made in the Caſtle of Ivrea. That the Garriſon have offer'd to Surrender on Terms, but the Duke is reſolv'd to make them Priſoners of War; and being inform'd the Beſieged might retire out at a certain Place, has order'd ſome Troops to poſt themſelves conveniently to prevent them. They write from Metz, that the Elector of Bavaria was expected there the 18th, and that the Elector of Cologne is to meet him there.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Sept. 18.

Warſaw, Sept. 6. His Poliſh Majeſty having drawn the King of Sweden's Army into Ruſſia almoſt as far as Lemberg, decamp'd ſuddenly from Sockol the 21ſt of laſt Month, and with his Cavalry came before this City the 31ſt, and poſted Men in all the Avenues on this ſide the Viſtula. The 1ſt inſtant General Brand arriv'd on the other ſide of the River with a Body of Coſſacks, and part of the Army of the Crown. The 3d General Horn with a certain Number of Swediſh and other Soldiers, retir'd out of the Town into the Caſtle, and ſeem'd reſolv'd to make a good Defence; but the King having caus'd Batteries to be rais'd to make Breaches in the Caſtle-Walls, in order to make a general Aſſault upon it, ſent in (the 3d in the Evening) a Drummer and a Swediſh Miniſter that was taken by General Brand in Latowice, to acquaint General Horn with what Cruelty the Coſſacks had put to the Sword 300 Swedes at Latowice, and to aſſure him that if he did not ſurrender without delay, himſelf and his Garriſon were to expect no better Treatment. Upon this General Horn deſir'd 24 hours time to reſolve what to do; which being granted him, he beat a Parley the next day; and offer'd to yield. The King ſent General Brand to the Caſtle-Gate to regulate the Capitulation with General Horn, who at firſt demanded to be allow'd to march out with all the Marks of Honour, and to retire to the King of Sweden's Army; but thoſe Demands were rejected; and he was oblig'd to ſign the following Articles; I. That all the Garriſon ſhall be Priſoners of War; that General Horn and the Officers ſhall leave all their Effects in the Caſtle; that the Soldiers ſhall be allow'd ſo much of their Baggage as they can carry out; and that the reſt ſhall be ſeiz'd. II. That neither General Horn nor his Officers, ſhall be inſulted or moleſted in any Manner, either by the Coſſacks or the Poles. III. That all thoſe of the Garriſon who have formerly ſerv'd King Auguſtus ſhall be pardon'd, provided they are not Deſerters.

The Czar of Muſcovy took Nerva by Storm the 13th of Auguſt; and having divided his Army into 2 Bodies, has order'd them to march towards Revel and Pernau. A Regiment of Pruſſians is march'd from Coningsberg to Elbing, and part of that Regiment has already taken Poſt in the Suburbs of it. They write from Dantzick, that King Staniſlaus was expected at Coningsberg, and that the Cardinal Primate (now at Marienburg) would follow him.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated Sept. 23.

Baſil, Sept. 10. The Elector of Bavaria has the Title now of Generaliſſimo of the French Armies. As his Electoral Highneſs was going to hear Maſs in the Cathedral of Strasburg, the 8th inſtant, he receiv'd a Letter which made him immediately haſten away to the Army. The Bavarian Soldiers and Officers too deſert apace. There is a great Mortality among the French Horſes. The Count of Monaſterole came to Strasburg from Paris to wait on the Elector his Maſter. The King of France has deſir'd of the Canton of Berne, to permit ſome of his Troops to march out of Burgundy through the Country of Vaux to the Milaneſe; it will be debated in the next General Diet whether this Paſſage ſhall be granted.

The Amſterdam Courant of the 20th of September, in the Article from Paris of Sept. 15. gives the Names of 9 Captains, 6 Lieutenants, and 6 other Officers, that were kill'd in the Fight between the Fleets in the Mediterranean; And ſays, that beſides the Count of Tholouſe, 11 or 12 Captains, 8 Lieutenants, and many inferior Officers were wounded.
